

RECRUITMENT SPECIALISTS OMEGA CELEBRATE 10-YEAR ANNIVERSARY

Released 03.08

The award-winning international recruitment business, Omega Resource Group plc, has celebrated ten successful years of trading this month with a party of over 300 attendees that included staff members, business partners and clients to mark this significant milestone.

The company was co-founded in 1998 by three university friends, James Strickland, Ray Pugh and Alan Beresford who are directors and principle shareholders. Since its inception, the business has experienced continued expansion, achieving 33 per cent growth last financial year 07/08, and now boasts a turnover in excess of £24 million.

According to Group Director Alan Beresford, "Our business development over the last decade is an outstanding achievement: it's a testament to our dedicated staff that, as we have grown, has continued to provide our clients with an exceptional level of service."

Providing innovative, sector-led recruitment solutions, Omega's dynamic growth has been fuelled by four specialist divisions: Omega Selection Services, Omega Workforce, Omega International Resourcing and Omega Engineering Services.

Omega Selection Service

Delivering resourcing solutions to the technical and engineering markets from executive positions to middle-management, Omega Selection Services maintains a strong reputation for providing a high level, dedicated professional nationwide recruitment service.

Omega Workforce

Omega Workforce provides a 24-7, 365 days a year rapid-response service for contract, permanent and temporary-to-permanent recruitment solutions to the industrial, commercial and special events sectors throughout the UK. Experiencing a 68 percent growth from last year, the division is set to expand further in 2008 with more regional branch offices and selected new high calibre consultants to further strengthen the team.

Omega International Resourcing

Additionally, Omega's International Resourcing division provides innovative labour solutions from within the EU. The company was one of the first within the UK to gain its Gangmasters License and is commended by the REC for its quality of service.

Omega Engineering Services

The latest addition to the company, Omega Engineering Services was formed in 2006 and provides a high quality sub contract design and manufacturing service. Initially, this was aimed at Omega's existing engineering clients however, with the market's continued drive towards outsourcing and packaging of work, this specialist division has continued to develop and grow.

According to Beresford, Omega, which has recently become a publicly limited company, is set for another successful ten years: "Whilst its always good to take stock of your achievements in business, Omega remains a progressive company – offering a powerful and professional Group service capability - we are all looking forward to meeting the challenges of the next ten years"
