

Ishida Europe Ltd, based in South Birmingham, is a world leader in the design, manufacture and installation of multihead weighing machines and complete weighing and packing line solutions.

Appreciating and understanding the challenges faced by manufacturers, Ishida Europe Ltd uses its unique expertise and experience to develop advanced automated systems for weighing, packing, labelling and handling of food and non food products. From weighing machines, such as multihead weighers and checkweighers, to packing machines, including snack food bagmakers and pick and place systems, Ishida Europe Ltd offer a comprehensive range of high quality products.

Omega have had a long standing relationship with Ishida Europe Ltd as a supplier of Technical and Engineering Staff however, with Ishida Europe Ltd currently going from strength to strength, they have requirements for staff in all departments. Rory McStay, Principal Recruitment Consultant at Omega Selection Services has successfully filled over 15 technical roles in the last six months including Graduate Design Engineers, Mechanical Design Engineers, Production Engineers, Production Controllers and Assembly Technician's. Rory is also recruiting for more current vacancies and has said: "Ishida Europe is an excellent company to recruit for. They are dynamic, forward thinking and are true believers in training and development for all their staff"

Nikki Westwood, HR Advisor at Ishida Europe Ltd, who has working closely with Rory on all recruitment projects said: "I am always confident that Rory can fill our roles quickly and professionally, as he takes the time to speak to our hiring managers directly about each and every vacancy, and knows our business well".